

Broadhembury Church of England Primary School Aims

To develop the children's understanding and regard for others in order that they learn to be considerate, kind, respectful, well-mannered and responsible.

To set high standards in all aspects of school life, encouraging our children to have high aspirations and to be independent learners.

To value all members of the school community, providing both professional and personal support and encouragement.

To help our children to understand the importance of healthy lifestyles and to nurture their moral, social, spiritual and creative development in order to prepare them for opportunities and responsibilities later in life.

To be a school that reflects on its own practice and aims for improvement.

To be a school that builds strong links with the Church and local community, and to celebrate and be proud of its achievements.

To consider the child first and work as a team with shared responsibility in an atmosphere of support, enjoyment and security.

To be active and respectful members of the school, village and global community.

To encourage a love of learning for children, parents, staff and governors. Through teamwork and liaising with other professional we support the continuous professional learning of all staff through development and training.

To provide a broad and exciting curriculum and to enable our children to develop lively, imaginative and enquiring minds.

We hope that our children, in an ever changing world, will gain the ability to question, to debate to solve problems and to be independent in their learning, thus enabling them to thrive.

To recognise the worth of all individuals and celebrate children's endeavours, differences and achievements.

To provide children with an opportunity to explore and develop their spirituality and to understand the teaching of Christianity in the context of other world faith communities.
